MARIO LOMELI (1931 – 1997)

Mario Lomeli was a long-time, active devoted member of CETA-South (then known as SCETA) and DTASC. He served on the SCETA Advisory Council and for many years served as treasurer of DTASC.

He was noted for being an outstanding theatre educator; musicals were his specialty. He taught at Audubon Junior High School and University High School in Los Angeles. For several summers he was director of the All-City Drama/Music Workshop which was held at Roosevelt High School. Upon retiring, he taught Readers Theatre at the Emeritus College at Santa Monica City College.

Mario always had a ready smile and was a kind, gentle, loyal man, deeply loved, admired and respected by his colleagues, students friends and family. He loved musicals and cherished his time attending and producing theatre.

In his memory a scholarship has been created for an outstanding student participant of the CETA-South and DTASC Festivals.

Note: This page should be distributed at CETA Festival and at DTASC Festivals.

AUDITION TIPS

- Treat the audition like a job interview.
- Dress appropriately. Wear something comfortable, but professional looking — something which allows you to move and sit freely. You never know if the performance space will be raised.
 - Your clothing should not “call attention to itself” or distract the judges from your performance. Appropriate audition attire may include “Festival” style clothing (plain, solid colors, simply styled). Girls should wear modest, knee length or longer skirts or dresses (or pants if appropriate for the character) and simple, modest blouses or tee shirts; boys should wear long pants, a solid color shirt or tee shirt.
 - Footwear should be comfortable and simple: low heels, flats or sneakers (if appropriate for the character) for girls; dress shoes or sneakers for boys.
 - When in doubt, consult your coach for suggestions.
- Check the standard pronunciation of classical titles and playwright’s names.
- Be ready to adapt your staging or presentation for whatever chairs are supplied.
- Play the size of the room. If the judges are sitting 3 feet away, don’t yell the entire monologue.
- Show evidence that you have read the entire play/s.
- Be sure memorization is secure.
- Slate your name and the titles and authors of the two pieces you will be performing at the beginning of your audition package. Slate time is not part of the 5 minute time.
 - Time will be called at the 5 minute mark. You will not be disqualified as long as you stop when time is called.
- On any slate, engage the judges. Look right at the adjudicators to engage them with your confident personality.
- Make sure that your two audition pieces show a good contrast. One should be humorous and one should be serious. The characters should be diverse enough that the judges see an obvious difference in presentation, thus showing your range and ability more clearly.
 - Avoid passive monologues. Choose something that builds or possibly has a transition.
- Consider not bowing your head between monologues. Part of the challenge is seeing you finish the final beat of your first monologue and change your stance/attitude for your second character.
- Time your selections/presentations so that you do not have to rush moments.
- Make sure that you rehearse so that both monologues are equal in assurance.
- At the conclusion of your monologues, you will be asked a few interview questions. These questions will likely cover things such as expanding on the responses to the application questions and discussing future plans.
